

Information about Legal Decree 196 from 30. June 2003. (information about privacy policy)

Dear clients, we inform you that in order to realize the Service, Easy Market S.p.A. situated in Rimini, SS Consolare 51/C, 47900 Rimini, uses the information provided by you or gained by any other method, only to deliver the mentioned Service. Subject in charge for the use of the information is Easy Market S.p.A. or pro tempore legal representative. The list of the authorized people to use personal data and third party data receivers could be seen in the headquarters of Easy Market S.p.A. Data manipulation and handling is done through the procedures which enable protection of the Client's data and include collection, registration, organization, keeping, change, selection, extraction, comparison, use, interconnection, blocking, informing, sending, deleting and combination of two or more above mentioned activities.

Data handling, besides linked use, instrumental and those needed to deliver the Service, as its purpose will have:

- a) Sending to the linked, controlled and/or entities which have their functions closely and instrumentally linked to the operations of the Service and outside territory of the European Union
- b) Collecting data and information generally and specifically related to the preferences and choice of the User; sending information and business offer, from the third parties as well; sending promotional and informative material; business (and interactive) informing; sales and product and service placement; creation of the studies and statistical research about sales, clients and other information, as well as possible reporting to the third parties; delivery of the collected information to the third parties with purpose of sale even outside the EU or in any legally and/or commercial purposes;
- c) Delivery of the data to the Associations which have functions linked to the operations of the Service and/or manage databases in order to provide credit risk protection and which could be accessed by third Associations

It is necessary that Client accepts the use of personal data. In case of the rejections of that use, in particular cases under a), b) and c), Company will not be able to deliver the Service. Data handling for the above mentioned purposes will be done automatically and by the use of informatics, always respecting the rules of privacy and security foreseen by the law. Easy Market S.p.A. will protect data according to the legal regulation and will be handled by the employees and/or professionals in charge, under their supervision, control and responsibility. With that purpose, data which User provides could be sent to the external subjects even based abroad, and which deliver the services closely linked to the operations of the Service. We inform you that according to the art. 13 Law 675/96, the User can, within the limits provided by the law, ask the confirmation about the existence of the personal data, receive relevant communication about it, receive information about the logic and purpose of their use, ask for their update, check, change, cancellation, transformation into the anonymous form, block of the data used against the law including data which is not necessary anymore for any of the activities for which it was collected, as well as, use any right given by the legal documents.